My son is addicted to video games

Wondermum

My son Kenneth has got a problem with video games. It's terrible... We always argue about it because he neglects school and his family. He spends too little time on his homework. Look at this cartoon, it's exactly him!

I've got the same problem with my daughter, Abigail. She plays 3 or 4 hours a day. She's angry and irritable when she doesn't play. She always wants to play more. I feel desperate because we share too few moments together.

Kenneth is irritable too! I worry about him because he gets headaches and he doesn't sleep enough. He sometimes skips school because he plays late at night. What should I do?

Hello Wondermum, I think you should talk to Kenneth. You shouldn't lose your temper. You should explain to him the dangers of excessive gaming. You should also establish clear rules: for example, no video games before homework. I did it and it worked. Now, my son Noah can play and stop when it's necessary.

I agree with Dad21. I should do the same. I should put the console in the living room, so I can see when Abigail plays.

Thank you Dad21 and good luck Superdaddy! I'll talk to you later about the results...
