“My first day in a high school”

Presentation and Discovery of our high school.

In the high school , there are lots of buildings and there are more than 1960 students . This high school is one of the biggest high schools in New Caledonia. There are about 200 teachers and there are lots of other staffs in the high school ( cleaners , supervisors, cooks...).

There are lots of trees . The high school has an area of 14 Hectares. So... there is a big playground . On the very first day, "D-Day", when we entered the high school, we had to find our class and then, we went in our room with our headteacher. We talked about rules in this high school. Then , we discovered the high school rooms . We visited the nursery too.

We were a bit afraid of getting lost in that place : such an uncommon architecture !!

Our first feelings and meetings with others (professor, students ...)

When we saw the Big high school far away We were amazed because it's a very big establishment. And when we came in this high school we saw so many people . We met our class and it was so strange because we did not know one another . We met our head teacher. too : she is also one of our English teachers.

Extra curricular activities

There are 4 activities :

- 1) Chess:
- 2) Astronomy
- 3) green garden

- Building A is the administration offices and spare rooms at the second floor and the library at the third floor we can see the staff room as well.
- Building B,C,D and E are dedicated to classrooms.
- There is a schoolcanteen which is between classrooms and the boarding school.

There is also a cafeteria where you can find bottles of water, soft drinks, sandwiches, cakes, chips etc.. A nice place to spend some time with friends!

Bell Ringing, Let's go back to School.

At the start of school year in year 11 (1st mg) I was very happy with my friends and goodbye my comrade. What I liked the most was the new teachers. Because, first they were very nice to me and my comrades.

Then I liked the way they have welcomed us in their rooms. Finally, I am very happy to be in the same class with my best friend since the 4ieme, his name is Ywal. Even if I hated these new courses because it was too hard to understand.

"Dring...Time to Go Back to School, guys."

Holidays are over now and It is time to go back to school. I'm a little tired but I was always happy to see my friends. It was very hot, so I could not focus too much on classes, I was thinking more about the river, the sea, the pool that I went on vacation. But arrived in first class STMG I knew I had to concentrate myself more than last year. Besides French baccalaureate waiting for me at the end of the year. In addition to other topics today, we have the management of the organization, management, economics and law. This subject requires a lot of staff work and the course must be well learned and done exercises. At first I was a bit lost, but I adapted myself. I find these topics well because I learn more vocabulary and the functioning of society. I am very happy because we have a good social climate in the classroom, but sometimes students tend to scatter a little.

But that to succeed you have to work more. But the other thing that pushes me back in high school is to go back to see my wife .. Lol ;)

The first that I see when I go on hollidays. And I already feel tired up in me.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE

ÉDUCATION IN AUSTRALIA

Primary/Secondary Edit

At primary and secondary level, government schools educate about half of students. The major part of their costs is met by the relevant State or Territory government.[1] Private schools, both religious or secular (the latter often with specialisations), may charge higher fees. Regardless of whether a school is government or private, it is regulated by the same curriculum standards framework. Most schools, government and private, enforce a uniform or dress code, although there are varying expectations.

Tertiary Edit

As of 2006, there are 36 public, 2 Catholic and 1 non-profit Private universities in Australia. Admissions by Australian citizens to public and Catholic universities in Australia are based on the prospective student's academic achievement. Admission to the private university, Bond University, is dependent on a student's ability to pay tuition fees as well as academic achievement and "one on one" interviews with admission officers (the only university in Australasia to do this for all students). Melbourne University Private was a whole university developed and owned by a public university to operate under this model.

Education in Australia can be classified according to sources of funding and administrative structures. There are two broad categories of school in Australia: public schools (also known as government or state schools) and private schools, which can be further subdivided into Catholic schools and independent schools.

State Schools in England

State education includes basic education, from kindergarten to twelfth grade. It is also referred to as primary and secondary education, as well as post-secondary educational institutions such as universities, colleges, and technical schools funded and overseen by government rather than private entities.

State education is generally available to all. In most countries, it is compulsory for children to attend school up to a certain age, but the option of attending private school is open to many. In the case of private schooling, schools operate independently of the state and generally defray their costs (or even make a profit) by charging parents tuition fees.

The funding for state schools, on the other hand, is provided by tax revenues, so that even individuals who do not attend school (or whose dependents do not attend school) help to ensure that society is educated. In poverty stricken societies, authorities are often lax on compulsory school attendance because child labour is exploited. It is these same children whose income-securing labour cannot be forfeited to allow for school attendance.

During the month of January, I went to Yate with my cousin and my friend to cam during 15 days. We took with us a tent, sleeping bags, some food and fishing equipment. Everyday, I went to the beach to fish with my cousin and my friend and we had great fun. We also went hunting the deer with hunting equipment. After thirteen days, we started to remove the tent. That was very funny. I look forward to enjoying this again sooner !!

APRIL FOOL'S

(by Pash and Nelly)

April Fools' Day, sometimes called All Fools' Day, is one of the most light-hearted days of the year. Its origins are uncertain. Some see it as a celebration related to the turn of the seasons, while others believe it stems from the adoption of a new calendar. An April fool is a joke, even a hoax That we make on April 1st (fools day).

It is as of custom to make hoaxes in the media, as in the press, on the radio or on television breaking the news which something unusual and extraordinary. At school, on this occasion, it consist in hanging (colliding) a fish made of paper in the back of people whom we want to laugh at. "April Fool!" is the typical phrase we use while saying one of the jokes !

Jokes (stuffings) or satires have always existed since Antiquity and the middle Ages.

It is worth noting that many different cultures have had days of foolishness around the beginning of April.... The Romans had a festival named Hilaria on March 25, rejoicing in the resurrection of Attis. The Hindu calendar has Holi, and the Jewish calendar has Purim.

Perhaps there's something about the time of year, with its turn from winter to spring, that lends itself to lightheart celebrations

The Legend of Sineweny

Myths and Heroes

The story that you are about to read is a legend that my father told me, a legend well-known in the District of Wetr. Welcome into Lifou's legendary world.

Long time ago in the District of Wetr, Cannibalism was present. The Chief's favorite food was fresh flesh. But at the time, there was a man and warrior named Sineweny who was against this practice which consisted in killing people to be fed. This warrior always used to rebel against the Chief. The chief of the District was unhappy with this warrior, he therefore decided to call for its people to evict Sineweny from the tribe. Just after, Sineweny went to visit an old wise woman from Thacil tribe in order to bring his help and care but above all to look for blessings. The old wise woman gave three blessings to the warrior. The first blessing was given to the warrior was the ability to pierce the Sun. The second blessing given was the ability to slide as fast as a snake. With the last blessing, Sineweny was protected against the willingness of the chief and his people to cook the warrior in big furnaces.

After visiting this grandmother, he went to the Chief of the District of Wetr where he killed the Chief's son. This is how the first blessing operated. He then ran away but the Chief got to know where he was hiding so the warrior ran away to the District of LÖssi. The story was spread everywhere on the island and Sineweny was wanted dead or alive. Sineweny was hiding during the day and went out only during the night-time. One day, a couple saw him and recognized him and he got arrested. The husband gave a weapon to his wife to kill Sineweny but the latter managed to slide away and this is how the second blessing operated. Sineweny went away on the plateau named Alo. He passed by the entrance of the Chief's camp, the vigilantes heard some noises and one of the vigilantes threw his spear in the direction of Sineweny whose foot was hurt. He rushed away in the forest. This is how the third blessing operated leaving the warrior safe and sound away from the furnaces.

The Jungle Book : Mowgli's Story is a film directed by Nick Marck in 1998 for Walt Disney Pictures, as a prequel to the film The Jungle Book (1994) which in turn is a remake actual shooting of animated film jungle book (1967)...

Synopsis:

Mowgli is a "man cub" raised by the Indian wolf Raksha and her pack, led by Akela, ever since he was brought to them as a baby by the black panther Bagheera within the jungles of Seoni, Madhya Pradesh. Bagheera trains Mowgli to learn the ways of the wolves, but the boy faces certain challenges and falls behind his wolf siblings, and Akela berates him for using human tricks like building tools instead of learning the ways of the pack.

he truce is disrupted, however, when a scarred Bengal tiger, Shere Khan, arrives, detecting Mowgli's scent in the crowd. Resentful against man for scarring him, he issues a warning that he will kill Mowgli at the end of the drought. As the wolf pack debates whether they should keep Mowgli or not, Mowgli voluntarily decides to leave the jungle for the safety of his pack. Bagheera agrees with the decision and volunteers to guide him to the nearby man village.

Later, Mowgli meets Kaa, an enormous Indian python, who hypnotizes him. While under Kaa's hypnosis, Mowgli sees a vision of his father being mauled while protecting him from Shere Khan. The vision also warns of the destructive power of the "red flower". Kaa then attempts to devour Mowgli, but he is rescued by a sloth bear named Baloo. Together, they form a close bond after realizing their teamwork allows them to get honey easily for Baloo, and Mowgli agrees to stay with Baloo until the winter season arrives. Meanwhile, Shere Khan confronts the wolf pack, but upon learning Mowgli has left the jungle, he kills Akela and takes over the hills to lure Mowgli out.

THE DIVISION : What is this ?

Tom Clancy's The Division is a third-person shooter video game developed and published by Ubisoft, with assistance from Red Storm Entertainment, for Microsoft Windows, PlayStation 4 and Xbox One. It was announced during Ubisoft's E3 2013 press conference, and was released worldwide on 8 March 2016. The Division is set in a dystopian version of New York City in the aftermath of a smallpox pandemic; the player, who is an agent of the titular Strategic Homeland Division, is tasked with helping to rebuild the Division's operations in Manhattan, combating criminal activity in the wake of the outbreak, and investigating the nature of the outbreak. The Division is structured with elements of role-playing games, as well as collaborative and player versus player online multiplayer. The Division takes place in mid-crisis Manhattan, an open world with destructive environments that are free for players to explore.

The player's mission is to restore order by investigating the source of a virus. The gameplay is similar to other third-person-shooters, in which player character can carry three weapons, and explosives like sticky bombs and smart mines to fight against enemies. Players may take cover behind objects during firefights to avoid taking damage from enemies, and to give them a tactical advantage when attacking. As the game is set in a third-person perspective, the character model is visible.

Thomas Leo Clancy, Jr. (April 12, 1947 – October 1, 2013) was an American novelist and video game designer best known for his technically detailed espionage and military science story lines set during and after the Cold War. Seventeen of his novels were bestsellers, and more than 100 million copies of his books are in print. His name was also used on movie scripts written by ghost writers, non-fiction books on military subjects, and video games. He was a part-owner of the Baltimore Orioles and Vice Chairman of their Community Activities and Public Affairs committees. Clancy's literary career began in 1984 when he sold The Hunt for Red October for $5,000. His works, The Hunt for Red October (1984), Patriot Games (1987), Clear and Present Danger (1989), and The Sum of All Fears (1991), have been turned into commercially successful films. Actors Alec Baldwin, Harrison Ford, Ben Affleck, and Chris Pine have played Clancy's most famous fictional character, Jack Ryan; his second-most famous character John Clark has been played by actors Willem Dafoe and Liev Schreiber. Clancy died on October 1, 2013, of an undisclosed illness.

Soccer in New-Caledonia

Soccer is today one of the most practiced sports in the Caledonian territory. It has become a passion for us. This sport is to fill boredom, this is a team sport and physical practice. Today we organize tournaments and championships. This discipline allows us to travel and discover other cultures. In Lifou, we had Kanak young people who could do it to get to play in big teams. Christian Karembeu, this is my uncle. The sport allowed him to leave the country and then have what he wanted and to become the ambassador of soccer.

Cricket

Cricket is a bat-and ball game played between two teams of 11 players each on a field at the centre of which is a 22-yard-long pitch rectangular. The game is played by 120 millions players in many countries, it the second world's most popular sport after association football. Each team takes its turn to bat, attempting to score runs while the other team fields. Each turn is known as an innings.

The bowler delivers the ball to the batsman who attempts to hit the ball with his bat away from the fielders so he can run to the other end of the pitch and score a run. Each batsman continues batting until he is out. The batting team continues batting until ten batsmen are out, or a specified number of six balls have been bowled, at which point the teams switch roles and the fielding team comes in to bat.
